“ Andrew James kovalchik will always hold a special place in my heart! I'm at a loss for words bc I never thought I would be writting this honestly! Anyone who knew Andy, knew exactly how huge his heart was. He had the biggest heart, kindest soul, always so funny, & would do anything for anyone! I'm truly heartbroken for his family & anyone who knew him! He will always be in my heart forever! I'll never forget all the years & memories we shared! Those special memories of you will always bring a smile. If only I could have you back for just a lil while. Then we could sit & talk again just like we used to do! You always meant so very much to me & always will do too! The fact that your no longer here, will always cause me pain, but your forever in my heart, until we meet again! I know Cletus & James are with you know 🙏💛🙏 Keeping everyone in my thoughts and prayers!

“ Andy was a great friend of mine for most of my life. His kind heart and ability to find the best in everyone will always remain unmatched. I'm lucky to have gotten to spend one more day with him before he passed. And that day we spoke in depth about our beliefs and what we thought would be waiting for us on the other side. So even tho I'm going to miss him so much....I know he is in good hands and he's met back up with Zoomer and Cletus and we will see each other again one day. ❤️

Andy was a good friend of my daughter Keysha. They went to the same school and always had fun. She passed due to Covid in March 2021. I can see it she met him at the pearly gates with open arms. Both smiling and having fun. Sending prayers to all of his family and wonderful friends. Loved by all

“ This obituary sounds like it was written by someone who hasn't seen or spoken to Andy in years. By someone who never really knew him or who he was.

I grew up with Andy, and he was so much more than the way he died, or the life he survived for the last decade or so.

He was Peter Pan. The eternal child. He found so much joy in the smallest things. He was the goofiest person I've ever met. I never spoke to him and didn't laugh so hard I cried. He loved his friends, his dad, and Cletus more than anything. He loved music, and cars, and cleaning. Every party he was the first one up loading the dishwasher, mopping, taking the trash out. He was gentle. He was kind. He wasn't afraid to say I love you and tell you often. He called million times a day. He always wanted to know where the girls were. He so desperately wanted to be loved. I used to randomly send him cards in the mail, or have some of his favorite snacks delivered to his house and he would call crying about how much it meant to him. I wish he could have been well enough, for long enough, to realize all those people out there rooting for him and loving him from a distance.

He was a one of a kind. Hearts like his aren't made for this world. He was too pure and I hope he's feeling all the love he needed while he was with us, and enjoying the peace he deserves.

To those who truly loved him, I know your pain and I'm sorry. To those who took advantage of him, used him, thought of him as a joke, or abandoned him. Save your tears for something else.

I love you Andy, now and forever my brother. Thank you for the time we had and the impact you had on my entire family.
