“ It was about three years ago when I met Arlene while walking through the neighborhood meeting the residents. She enlightened me on her battle with cancer and told me she was in bad shape. After our first encounter, I began coming over once or twice a week to check up on her. I also met her son, Buster, who took great care of her. Arlene would always make me laugh even when she wasn't feeling well. She was a great woman that would do anything for anyone. I will greatly miss seeing her while patrolling Cascade Street. The neighborhood won't be the same without her around.

“ RIP Arlene, you are not sick anymore, you are with Ernie now. We were friends for a very long time, about 74 years. We drifted apart now and then, but always found our way back. I will miss our long telephone conversations. Buster did a great job of taking care of you. He is a good Son. Don't worry about him, He will do fine, he cooks , cleans, does everything. God Bless him. Your friend Tina
