“ Dear David, Lindsay and Carson, May God wrap His loving arms around you during this most difficult time. Ms. Barbara always wore the most beautiful smile every time I saw and spoke with her. Her gentleness and kindness was the best complement of her smile that would light up the room. It is with my most sincere thoughts of this loss you and your children are enduring, my thoughts and prayers are with you as your hearts heal. Just know that the empty, deep, dark hole your feel in your heart at this time will soon start to heal with the most wonderful, fond, funny memories that will ease the pain and allow your family to enjoy what now fills your hearts. May your blessings be many!

“ I am so sorry for your loss. Although, I do not know your family personally, I would like to share some encouraging thoughts from the Bible. The Bible provides comfort during these difficult times. Revelation 21:3-4 states, And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. The former things have passed away. Very soon now, we will never experience losing our loved ones in death. May these words give you a new hope.

“ David, I am so sorry for your loss. As you know, I know what it feels like to lose a parent, it is the worst feeling in the world. Stay strong and my prayers are with you. The only thing that helped me through was knowing that my dad is in a much better place now and I will see him again someday.

“ I send my deepest condolences to the family and friends of Mrs. Smith. Although I did not know her personally, I, too, have experienced the loss of a loved one some years ago and know it is a difficult situation to face. I pray that her family and friends can find comfort in God’s Word, the Bible, and continue to rely on Him in prayer. John 5:28, 29 talks about a hope we have of seeing our loved ones again when they are resurrected back to life. What a beautiful and exciting hope that is!
