“ Reflecting this morning on some of the many memories my grandson made with Mr. Brett at the track this past year. Camden would not be racing if it were not for his kindness and his patience with Cam. Camden respected this man more than any other person I know. They had such a special bond and unique relationship. Mr. Brett was probably one of the toughest, most competitive guys I ever met. Until he was around Camden. He came down to his level, and talked to him, and reassured him, and taught him things in a way no one else knew how to do. We miss him already.

“ Brett was one of the smartest guys I ever met. He could make, build or repair anything you brought to him. He helped me out of many difficult projects. I will miss him, and his way of telling you how it should be. He definitely had his way and it was always done right. I will surely miss him. My love goes out to his family. God bless you Brett, peace and pain free now be with you.

“ Brett was a neighbor, friend and you never had to wonder where you stood with him as he was a straight forward guy. He could fabricate most any thing from metal, fix anything on vehicle, and go out his way to help you. i called Brett one time ask if he would rent me a trailer he had that i needed for a day he said no i want rent it. But i'll loan it to a neighbor. That was Brett !!
