“ Thank you for showering my family with love during this very difficult time. Mom was one of a kind and loved so many and so many loved her. Life will never be the same without her here. She loved laughing and her service felt good because we had lots of laughter, a few tears but lots of laughter. So in the spirit of my Momma, please go out and laugh and share with others the laughter that you carry inside. She used to say, " Smile and have a nice day it tends to irritate those who have other plans for thee" She was right smiling has always felt better than crying. So if you see one of us out and we are smiling and not crying , it's ok we are just channeling Mom. Life must go on and on we go. Struggling to put one foot in front of the other but we will get there. Thanks again for loving my family. We love you Mom and can't wait to see you again.
