“ *Sorry for your loss. It seems so unfair that death should have the power to take away someone you love. And when it happens, the thought of never again being able to talk to, laugh with, or hold your loved one can be most difficult to bear. The Scriptures indicate that it is possible to be reunited with your dead loved one in the near future, right here on earth under peaceful, righteous conditions. And at that time humans will have the prospect of enjoying perfect health, and they will never have to die again. “ Bucky (Dad) I thought of you as a dad even though I wasn't your biological child. You were a strong brave man during your illness. Even though your were in pain you still made a lot of people laugh and we value that so much. I made you a promise and I will keep it. I will take care of mama I missed and love you so much but I know one day I will see you in Heaven. Tell everyone up there we missed and love them up there. You're in a better place now and not suffering anymore. God Bless you.

“ *My sweet daddy...I am selfish, because I don't want to let you go. I am not so selfish that I am not thankful that you are in a better place. I know that you are with the family and friends that took this journey before you. I'll bet there was a feast and lots of hugs and you can walk and be pain free. You will always have a very special place in my heart, in my secret place. I will always love you, but now I have to set you free. Fly high and keep an eye on all of us. My heart is flying with you.
