“ I send my deepest condolences to the family and friends of Mr. Miller. Although I did not know him personally, I've experienced the loss of a loved one some years ago and know it is a difficult situation to face. I pray that his family and friends can find comfort in God's Word, the Bible, and continue to rely on Him in prayer. John 5:28, 29 talks about a hope we have of seeing our loved ones again when they are resurrected back to life. We can be confident in that beautiful and exciting promise, and may it bring you hope and peace!

“ Clayton was a loyal family friend for over 50 years. He was one of the most creative and talented people we have ever known, and we have many wonderful memories working with him on his early movies and staging their "world premiers". We will miss him very much.

“ My deepest sympathy in your loss. Clayton and I were classmates at MHS. We saw each other often at the post office and exchanged info about our friends and classmates.

“ I didn't know Clayton very well, but my mother, Becky Deal grew up with him and would tell me stories about her childhood. All my favorite stories would involve Clayton. He sounded like so much fun! Later in life, and remaining a native to Mooresville, I would run into him from time to time. His spirit still seemed so intriguing to me. He was definitely one of those people who I knew made left an imprint on whoever he met. If you knew Clayton, you were blessed with his dry humor, sheepish smile, and warm heart. That's the impression he left with me. I wish I could have gotten to know you better. What a special person. I'm lucky to have known him.

“ I met Clayton 27 years ago, when I worked at Harris Teeter on Main Street. He would always tease me, and would make me laugh. He was such a joy to be around. Later, down the road, I would run into him at Walmart, and I would also see him at the movies. When I would see him at the movies, it would be a coincidence that we were going to watch the same movie, so we would sit together at the movie. He was a great friend! I would like to tell his family that they are in my thoughts and prayers at this difficult time! Rest in peace my good friend, until we meet again!
