“ I never came to grips with my lack of knowledge, until I read your obituary. I never knew all of the service to God you've done in your lifetime. You had a wonderful sense of humor too. You were so gracious when I showed up at your front door dressed in an alligator costume on your birthday. My mascot costumes always made you smile. You accepted me for who I am. You were above and beyond faithful with your card ministry. When I became ill, and when Mom became ill, there was Doris Brown. This doesn't show how I touched your life. This shows how much YOU have touched mine.

“ Doris was such an inspiration in the way to live your life fully. I have know Doris for over 40 years and only got to see her once a year but it was always wonderful catching up with her and what was happening in our lives. I love the church cookbooks that I have collected over the years from her church and think of her kindness and loving personality every time I use them. She will be missed by many still here. “ What a beautiful soul. She was the hands and feet of Christ. After we left the church, we stayed in contact for many years, always asking about the family and wondering how everyone was doing. Heaven truly gained another angel. My heart is sad but I am rejoicing for I know we will see one another again.

“ Doris was my nurse and surgical assistant for over 20 years— my right hand, invaluable to me and the pediatric orthopaedic patients she helped me take care of. They loved her. Kind, devoted, loving are but a few words that describe her. Dr. Bill Moorefield
