“ Gene was more than a good neighbor and good friend, he was like a Dad to me (and his wife Jan, a Mom) for the past twenty-plus years. Gene was the friend/neighbor that would do anything for you without ever being asked. If he saw you needed help with a project, he was there "johnny-on-the-spot" with his tools. Gene was the guy that's give you the shirt-off-his-back in a New York minute and expect nothing in return. I believe he got great pleasure in using his talents as a craftsman to help others. I believe that was his way of committing himself to his Christian faith.

I enjoyed the times we spent together talking. He was a wise man. The memories of the times we spent together are passing before my eyes.

I hope he knew that I loved him very much, and miss him greatly. Godspeed Gene, We'll someday meet again.

*Love,
Mike*
