“ I always admired the love Freddy had for his family. He was the happiest when he had them all together on a family trip. His kids were his everything. He had a love and bond with his parents that was nonbreakable. I was lucky enough to be Freddy’s niece. Freddy was always there for me if I needed anything, no questions asked. Freddy gave me a pep talk 15 years ago that has stuck with me. It has helped through many situations. He told me I loved people with a full heart. He said the reason I felt things so strongly and determined to live a truthful life was because I was a highly conscious person. I will carry those words and all our memories we shared together forever. He will be truly missed by many!
