“ I am so shocked and saddened to learn of Harish's passing. He was a great colleague and a true friend. I will miss him so much.

It is so difficult to understand how someone so young and healthy can suddenly be gone. I feel deep sympathy for his family.

I knew Harish mostly from a professional perspective although we shared many fun times together too. Many is the time when Harish got me and my company out of a jam.

It was a great pleasure to work with such an outstanding professional as Harish. He was so smart and creative and caring. He got the job done superbly in today's tough, bottom-line environment but without sacrificing his humanity. What a great man he was!

I will never forget this man. He was very special.

“ This is absolutely sad and shocking news – it left me completely speechless; don't know what to do, what can I possibly write... I had such a nice relationship with Harish – we indeed worked together and we met many times in person in US and Singapore. He was such a fantastic person and a true professional; I considered him as a rising star in logistics field. I feel privileged to have known him and I will miss him sorely. My deepest condolences to Harish's family. !! Om Shanti.

“ Harish and I were classmates at SIES back in 96-98. He was very jovial and looked out for his friends. We had some great times, I can remember us crashing neighbouring college music festivals and partying till late in the night. He will be missed. My heartfelt condolences to his wife and children. I am a father of two wonderful girls and I will be giving them extra hugs and cuddles today. Our time on this planet is short. Let us make the most of it. Miss you Harish Rajan...

“ *My deepest condolences to the entire family. Harish was an inspirational thought leader who inspired and educated us - his can-do attitude and energy was visible to my clients, my teams and me. While we were separated across oceans, I have always found a friend who was willing to help and make an impact to all around him. It has been a pleasure knowing you, my friend - my prayers are with you and your family.

“ Heartfelt condolences. Shocked to hear the news of Harish's demise. His last email conversation recently with me was to catch up sometime, which will remain incomplete forever. I was thinking of calling Harish sometime soon while looking at Whatsapp yesterday and today I hear he is no longer with us. Harish provided great support while we were executing the Blume account at Infosys offshore. He will be remembered for the industry expertise, conversational skills and positivity.

May his soul rest in peace, my prayers with his family.

“ Dear Harish, you have left us totally devastated and still reeling in shock! I simply cannot accept you're no more. I cannot believe I will no more get your calls and messages. We have known each other for 12+ years, having worked so closely and lived together in London many years ago. As everyone knows, you were the professional of the higher caliber, leader with a relentless passion and drive for excellence, utmost commitment and ability to slog hard, sharp thinking and articulation that would bring simplicity in complex transactions. It is not without a reason why I always considered you as The Best Logistics Guru in Infosys. I was lucky to work with you closely, seeing your ability to explain the logistics nuts and bolts to users and articulate strategies to the CxO's. You pushed yourself and the teams all the time, encouraging, guiding and striving to do more. At the same time, as a friend, you always listened to me and gave me the right guidance and advice throughout. Will dearly miss you Harish Bhau! Om Shanti!!

My deepest condolences for Aruna, Akhil and Ananya! May God give you the courage to recover from this great loss and inspire to do great things in life, which will make Harish a proud husband and father! – Pankaj “ My deepest condolences to all the loved ones he leaves behind. While I knew that Harish had been unwell I received the news with a profound sense of disbelief as it seems like only yesterday that he was chatting in his relaxed, articulate, charming, tongue-in-cheek and thoughtful manner. A razor sharp mind with quick wit and a caring disarming personality allowed him to effortlessly connect with people. All my conversations with him started with a brief chat in Marathi and some evocative Mumbai references. He leaves a void in all those lives that he touched but also leaves behind a treasure trove of wonderful memories and inspiring resilience to fill it with.

“ Over the last 3 + years I have worked very closely with Harish. He was a great Mentor to me and he genuinely cared about my wellbeing, personally and professionally. I was devastated to hear about this news Yesterday. Still not able to come to terms with what happened to him.

Harish has greatly influenced me and many others in his life. We all owe a lot to him. We all miss him. I pray for strength to Aruna Akhil and Ananya to handle this great loss. I pray Harish Rests in Peace.

Thank you Harish!

“ By this time Harish's mortal remains would have been consigned to the funeral pyre but the sense of disbelief has not diminished one bit. It was almost yesterday when after lunch, Harish and I discussed sending me his resume for forwarding to the folks at Infosys, a step that took him and the family all over the world and provided an interesting change in trajectory to his brilliant career. A gentle soul, loving father, reliable friend. Gone too soon. What a vaccum you have left in our lives.

“ Age to enjoy life and not say bye! What happened to you Harish? I could not and still cannot believe this news that I read on the PONL social media page. Harish and I were colleagues at PONL India (in Mumbai) between 2003 - 2005 when he worked for the Logistics arm. After 15 years, I heard from Harish on 19 May 2021 - that's like 8 weeks ago - initially on FB Messenger and then on WhatsApp. Apart from the "catchup", he did add that he would love to leave the "quarterly rat race" and chase other things that he likes doing - travelling, learning languages, painting & gardening. We were supposed to talk on how he can work it (including personal finance) out. But this jolt was the least expect event waiting for him around the bend! I last messaged him on 22 June and that message, as I notice today, is unread! I have pleasant memories while working in PONL Logistics India - Mumbai office - at Empire Industries. Such a young family who was enjoying the various shades of life. My prayers to the almighty to shower Aruna, the Children - Akhil & Ananya and other family members (especially his parents) abundant courage and strength to bear with this sudden & irreplaceable physical loss and grant Harish, eternal peace. Always had a smile on his face. Not an age to leave this world, especially when he wanted to pursue so many things! Apart from the family, the logistics industry is going to miss a star! Adios buddy. Thank you for reconnecting with me in May.

“ Since yesterday, when I heard about Harish, I have been in a shocked state. I lost a mentor, role model and a big brother.

I was honored to have known him for the last 12+ years and largely credit him with teaching and mentoring me on various aspects of customer orientation, logistic domain and most importantly the human connect in work and life. I will miss his smile, laughs and memorable outbursts.

He was a true leader; likeable and big-brother like. Any opportunity to share a chat on work or personal front was infectious as you knew with all his wisdom he'd drop a pearl of brilliance in how to handle a matter or resolve an issue. Working for projects under his influence I always felt I had someone always there to look out for me. I felt protected, mentored and energized with him around.

For the last few months I had been delaying my call with him. I wish I had spoken more often.

We have lost a great industry leader and I will miss you Harish and I thank you Harish for infusing my intellect and life with your presence. Thank you for being you. You will be missed but you will be forever with me.

I wish entire Harish's family, strength during these trying times

Rest in peace big brother.

“ Not enough words to express the brother you have been to me....
Since school days and for eternity....
All I can say is you made each one feel special and that was such a one of a kind quality that you possessed!
The fun we had, the trips we made, the connect we had as families...
You have made me smile with your antics, and made me laugh uncontrollably over such insane things... Incidentally don't remember the reason, but cannot just forget the mad laughter...
That is how you were.... Always making sure that people were happy in your company!!!
Never ever did I see you stress over anything and you were always there with solutions for any problem, small or big!!!
I am eternally grateful for having been your friend, and you will be always live in my memories!!!
Aruna, Akhil, Ananya, I don't know if I can ever comfort you enough... stay strong as you always have, because that's what Harish would have expected you to be....
My humble prostrations and respects to Uncle, Auntie and Arun....
Harish had this Midas touch and he had the ability to bring out the gold in anybody whom he touched!!!
Live on my friend.... for eternity and beyond!!!

“ Harish,

Your news was so shocking that we did not know how to react. While we knew you were having health issues, we did not anticipate that you will be taken from us so soon. Remember, we were supposed to meet and party like the old times, and now it all seems so unfair.

Our days in Singapore, the Metallica show, your jokes (weird at times), late-night dinners after work, and your perspectives in general about everything in life and beyond will stay with us forever. You had become family from a colleague long back, and your 'Bro'ness will be sorely missed.

We wish we had spoken more often. You have taken away a part of us that will remain void forever. It is surreal to send these flowers to you. We remember sending them on your 10th Anniversary.

Keep rocking wherever you are.

“ Beyond being a consummate professional and leader in his domain, he was a good friend to me. As with many people who reached out over last 2 days, he had made genuine connections with a lot of people, listening to them, helping where he could and creating those relationships over time. He used to me tell about someone who will go to a war with him, he had many such people to make an army. He had listened to me rant and rave and still give his guidance in measured tone and cool head. He was someone whom we could reach out to for advice or just a listening ear. He picked up any cause that is seen just and will go to any level to get us a solution or atleast give us confidence and hope that something could be done. It was a treat watching him use different languages in span of minutes to work with people from all over India and get things done, all the while connecting with them in a way that people did it for him. We will dearly miss his energy, warmth, compassion and his brilliant mind. Rest in peace, Harish! Praying for all the strength to the family to bear this loss.

“ You have left us too soon Harish! Still can't believe you are not there with us anymore! Remembering all the discussions, meetings, conversations ,chats and calls. Feeling grateful to have known you though I so so wish it had not ended so unexpectedly!

Harish - You, your words of wisdom, all the good times and your smile will live in our hearts forever!

Dear Aruna- Hope God give you and kids strength to bear this pain!

“ My deepest condolences to Aruna, Akhil, Ananya and family!!

Harish - Beauty lies in the eyes of the beholder and I can safely say that I have been captivated numerous time by the beauty of your wit, energy and knowledge. I will miss your polyglot greetings with "Eppudi Irukkae" and "Entha Sukamano". Be it Mysore or the Infosys Connect or the fleeting phone calls, it was my pleasure to have had the opportunity to spend some time with you.

As you look over all of us from your heavenly abode with that twinkling smile of yours, I will celebrate your Life for the beautiful moments you have etched in all our memories. Rest in peace brother!

“ Dear Harish,

The news of your departure from this mortal world came as a shock. It certainly felt that I had lost my own elder brother. It only feels like yesterday that my elder brother, yourself, your younger brother Arun and myself used to play cricket in our building. I always remember the young shy, but always bearing a smiling face. And also remember our conversation when we spoke whilst your stay in the UK. You will be missed. Thank you for being a friend and elder brother to me. I shall pray to the Supreme Personality of Godhead Sri Krishna for your onward journey. Om Shanti

“ All of us who worked with Harish have such good memories of him. When meeting a team after long, he would greet us in a sing-song voice, bellow with laughter all of a sudden at some silly joke with that typical loud clap of his hands, eyes twinkling, grinning mischievously. He reasoned with us, debated furiously, reprimanded harshly, partied, danced, and sung – and was always so sure of himself. He could handle a conversation with anyone - from the hospitality associates to client CXOs, with equal élan and ease. The depth of his professional knowledge made him the best in the role I have ever worked with. Then, there were his general knowledge about anything and everything, his sharp memory, presence of mind, the philosophical mode that surfaces at times, the way he effortlessly hopped between various languages, the awesome dancing, the singing (remember him rocking ‘Hotel California’ leaving an audience at Pune wide eyed), the spontaneity and above all, the genuine empathy he had for fellow human beings -endeared him to a lot of people. A life well lived of a person much loved! He continues to be an inspiration in so many ways – to be a better version of ourselves. Each of us is deeply pained by this loss.

Dear Aruna, we hope and pray that you, the children and the rest of your family gets the strength to tide over this irreparable loss. Condolences and much love.

“Gone too soon, Harish! I consider myself lucky to have known you for the last 4 years, for the fun we all had whenever you visited the team, for all the discussions and advices, for the parties...those memories keep coming back.

One of the brilliant minds I have ever met in my life, a beautiful soul who really cared, an inspiration to all of us!

My deepest condolences to the family! Rest in peace, Harish!

“ Harish, when you told me on Saturday that you would overcome this illness, I had no doubt in my mind that you would. I had a song in my heart knowing you would be well again and we would meet soon in Bombay, the city that we both loved. I can't believe you're gone and I can't imagine I will never again pick up the phone and hear your happy voice again or laugh over silly stuff from our shared childhood and growing up years. I will miss you forever and remain eternally grateful for the gift of your beautiful friendship. Love you, my dear friend.

“ Still cannot come to terms with this. Spoke with Harish just a few months back. It was as usual a conversation full of funny anecdotes and what could be done better for an upcoming client discussion. Will miss your encyclopaedic knowledge, dry wit and humour. My deepest condolences to Aruna, Akhil, Ananya and his family. Rest in peace brother !

“ Dear Harish,

I had quite a few occasions to come across your great knowledge, humility, sense of positivity. It is only last week that I was hoping that we will jointly do the call with the client, and now this news has come. I am really sad and shocked.

I pray to God that it gives your family the courage and strength to bear this huge loss.

Om Shanti

Extremely sorry & shocked to hear about my friend, Harish Rajan. Got to know him after he moved to Charlotte about 6 years back. Remember him as full of life and enthusiam. He shared positive vibes every time we spoke.

My Heartfelt condolences to Aruna, Akhil, Ananya, Harish's family in Mumbai and rest of the world. May his soul Rest in Peace!!

“ Dear Harish,

I can't believe you are not amongst us anymore - to learn now that you have been unwell for some time, it pains me even more because you continued to not just support but also follow up with us to contribute to initiatives to support a needy person without making anyone of us realise the pain and ill-health you were experiencing - such acts of unconditional kindness and generosity is very seldom expressed by mankind today.

May the almighty give your family the strength to cope with this loss, my heart goes out to your mom and dad , Aruna, Akhil and Ananya - there are no words I can find to console them but am sure you will find ways to continue to protect them and care for them as an Angel.

Take care my brother Harish - the memories of you as a loving son , a self made successful professional, a wonderful and beautiful human being (inside out) will continue to shine brighter in our hearts for infinity.

I just wish I could have expressed all this to you when you were there and not as a memoir.

Rest in Peace

“ The last 24 hours have been a very difficult one for me. When someone says that they have been hit by a ton of bricks, I never knew what it meant or felt. Now I know.

Yesterday, my pal of 30 years and my closest, dearest friend Harish Rajan left us on this earthly journey. He was ailing for a brief while. The end came around 12:15 pm IST y'day at Charlotte, NC.

While I knew he was ailing, never in my wildest dreams did I imagine that the end would be so sudden. To say that I am devastated, would be an understatement. Our journey together will remain a litany of unfinished dreams and unfulfilled promises.

We met as small-time rivals but very soon went on to be thicker than brothers. The many life expeditions, our small victories, the heartbreaks, the joyous celebrations, the boisterous laughter, the travels together, the memorable times spent in Goa, Singapore and US, the times at Toto's and Hawaiian Shack are all an indelible part of my memory and will stay with me till the end of my time. His knowledge of books and music was encyclopaedic and that itself won him a number of fans, especially of the fairer sex 😊

Harish had this incredible ability to make friends and was absolutely cocksure and secure about himself. He could also be a dork and guffaw on the silliest of things and had a fetish for fart and poop jokes. He was humble enough to acknowledge when he didn't know something and would be quick to know all about it. His rapid professional growth was a testimony to this fact. During our long, long-distance conversations in the last one year, he always spoke about retirement and settling down in India. But some things are just not meant to be.

He leaves behind two wonderful, sorted and beautiful kids Akhil and Ananya and his wife, Aruna who has been this Rock of Gibraltar all throughout, moving multiple cities, countries & continents, and raising the kids while Harish went about winning his professional conquests. She called me Harish's First Wife but she was the wind beneath his wings 😊

His parents live in Sion, Bombay and for them it's been traumatic losing a son in the winter of their lives. May they find the strength to tide over this crisis in their lives.

*And finally, a part of me has gone forever and there's a void that can never be filled. I cherish every moment we spent together and the dreams we shared and the conversations we had.
Farewell my friend. Until we meet on the other side. Hold the glass for me until then! 🍷🍷* “ Harish has been an amazing guy, always so down-to-earth and approachable. His life has been an inspiration to all around him. With strong commitment and determination, he made a mark for himself and family starting from so humble background. Clarity of thought and empathy to others are what described him as a person. Even though I have been connected with him professionally, he was always concerned about me and checked about our well-being every time we spoke. May the Almighty make his path to heaven easy, place him in a higher orbit and give strength to Aruna to tide over this sudden difficult situation. Our prayers are with the entire family.

“ Harish the ever smiling person. My cousin from dads side. The best son for the family. Every vacation i used to visit sion and spend good time with lakshmi akka and family. Harish and Arun the 2 brothers are such loving kids. They always considered me as their sister. The unconditional love I got from the family is un imaginable. Harish you are gone too soon.

Our teens was super fun...after marriage we went in different directions..but always in thoughts.

In heaven you will surely spread the warmth love and smile which was your usp.

May your soul rest in peace Harish.

We will miss you.

“ Dear Aruna,

Our hearts go out to you and your family. Please accept our heartfelt condolences.

While Harish is conspicuous by his physical absence today, his indomitable spirit continues to live on forever in all our hearts.

I fondly remember Harish as a true gentleman, with a beautiful smile, a golden heart, always ready to help everyone, a doting dad, a loving husband and most importantly a fighter!!

Please know we are thinking of you and your family and are by your side during this time of sorrow and healing.

We pray for the departed soul. please let us know if we can help you heal in any which way possible.
