“ I was at home sick one day and had fallen asleep on the sofa when I heard a knock.

When I went to the door I felt a little disoriented. Mr. Harold was standing there and he told me my son needed help. My son is confined to a wheelchair and the battery had died. He had gotten out of the chair and dragged himself under the shade of a large evergreen bush. That's the way Mr. Harold and Ms. Betty found him. So you can imagine what Mr. Harold might have been thinking when he came to the door.

Later I sent my husband over to thank Mr. Harold and to make sure he knew I was sick and not drunk.

I laugh every time I tell this story. What a wonderful neighbor and he will be missed in the neighborhood.

RIP Mr. Harold
