“ As seniors in high school, Harrison and I spent hours in study period sitting in the last row next to each other discussing mostly our future after leaving school. We may have accidentally got some studying done but not much I am sure. I did not meet Harrison again until many years later and we naturally caught up on what had happened over the years. What stands out most in my mind then and now was how sincere Harrison felt towards his life and I am sure anyone associated with it. He was a man actively involved in maintaining a quality life and was prepared to do whatever it took to acquire that. I am sure his sentiments carried over into his family, work, and whatever he undertook. All of us who knew him are better off as a result of having walked with him. Prayers and thoughts are with the family during these times. Bless you all.

AN

My brother and I were friends with Jonathan and Andrew most of my childhood! We lived right across the woods from each other! James and Barbera both were the best at giving us kids ideas about forts and salamanders and crawdads! I only knew him as a child but i have nothing but wonderful memories of him!!! Open arms, warm hearted, always listened when i whined the boys wouldn't let me play, he would literally just sit and smile and say it was all okay
