“ I learned of Jim's death yesterday and although we had not been in contact for many years, I thought of him often and hoped he was living a good life. Jimmy was my first cousin and as children he along with my late sister Carolyn had many adventures when he would visit us in New England during summer vacations. He was full of fun and mischief and always left his grandma, my parents and his cousins wishing he would visit more often. I send my belated sincere condolences to his wife Cheryl, daughter Amanda and their families.
