“ We met James and Aimee as neighbors when we moved to Mooresville and passed along some of our moving boxes as they prepared for their own move. We lost touch until early this year when James became the answer to our prayers by agreeing to build our new home. James delighted in saying that it was meant to be because for the past 8 years every time he went into his attic he would see "Phelps" on a few of the remaining boxes he had!

James made the process of building a home an absolute joy with his ever present smile and kind words. Regardless of the challenge he inspired us with his confidence and ability to see the good in every situation and person. Seeing James' name on my caller ID brought an instant smile to my face and I'll truly miss him saying, "What's up, Bubba?" as we worked through making a set of plans into our family home.

Our thoughts, prayers and hearts are now and forever with Aimee and the children. The world needs more good, honest and wonderful men like James. He always spoke lovingly of Aimee and found time in his busy schedule to support his children's passions and pursuits. Seeing the joy in his eyes as he described college visits, four-wheeling trips, basketball games and tubing with his children showed us how wonderful and loving he was.

I'll miss you, James.

“ *James or "Coach James" as he was called in our home for so many years (my wife still has him programmed in her phone as "Coach James") was a wonderful, patient, and gentle, man. For so many years, he was willing to commit his time and energy to teaching and developing young men to play the game of baseball. Always even-tempered and not one to ever get too excited on the field, he demonstrated commitment and good sportsmanship to players and parents alike. The news of James passing has shocked us all and only made bearable by the very fond memories of him. Our hearts and prayers go out to Aimee and the family, even now praying for peace and strength for them in the days ahead. “ In 1991, James and I met when we were roommates at ECU orientation. Needless to say we created some great memories during those 3 days. We continued to hang out our freshman year and eventually became roommates our sophomore year in 92-93. We definitely headbutted each other quite a bit as roommates. Whether arguing over washing the dishes (no dishwasher) or simply whose turn was it to vacuum. But we made it through and I credit him for pulling me through accounting class and more importantly teaching me how to cook on a charcoal grill and how to play spades. He invited me up to New Years one time and introduced me to his hometown crew and I had the chance to meet his father as well. His father and friends made me feel at home and I could tell he was brought the right way.

After college, James and I lost touch. However, many years ago, my wife and I surprised him with a visit to his home when his kids were very young. It was a pleasure meeting his wife and children. He seemed very happy with his life and I would imagine it only got better since. Billy Joel always said "Only the Good Die Young." This was certainly true with James. I'll always remember you buddy....

My prayers are with your wife and your children and the rest of your extended family.

Sincerely,

Stephen Moody
