“ Jamie has been a friend of our family since before I was even born. I've known him my entire life and I never heard him complain even once about anything. He was always willing to help anyone who needed it. He would work hard too and give it his all. He was always kind with me and everyone who knew him. He was very open and friendly with all people. He was one of those people who you really wish more could be like. He made the world a better place for those that knew him and inspired others with his actions. I'm so thankful to have gotten to know Jamie and that he was such a good friend to our family. We all love him and will definitely miss him. I hope everyone knows what a great guy he was.
