

Jason John Doyle

August 17, 1988 - August 23, 2025

Jason John Doyle, 37, of Mooresville, NC, passed away on Saturday, August 23, 2025. He was born on August 17, 1988, in Hendersonville, NC, to David Doyle and Jodi Doyle.

Jason lived a life filled with purpose, joy, and a smile that could light up any room. He spent his childhood in Hendersonville, where he was happiest playing sports or spending time outdoors with his brother, Clayton, and his family. In 1997, the Doyle family moved to Mooresville, where Jason continued building deep friendships and lasting memories.

In 2015, Jason faced a life-changing injury that left him a paraplegic - but it never defined or diminished him. Through countless surgeries and ongoing pain, Jason remained full of life, humor, and heart. His resilience was as infectious as his smile. He had a unique ability to find laughter even in life's toughest moments and lifted the spirits of everyone around him.

Over time, Jason transformed from a patient into a mentor, and then into a passionate advocate. He found purpose working with a nonprofit organization, raising awareness and funds for causes close to his heart. His work touched countless lives, inspiring others through both his words and actions.

Jason never let his injury limit his life. He embraced adaptive sports like hand cycling and water skiing and even fulfilled a dream of driving a NASCAR racecar around Dover Downs Speedway. No matter the challenge, Jason lived boldly, joyfully, and fully.

He was preceded in death by his Grandfather Johnny Doyle and his beloved service dog Colt. He is survived by his parents, David Doyle and Jodi Doyle, brother Clayton Doyle, grandmother Barbara Doyle, sister-in-law Stephanie Menzo Doyle, and his twin nephews Ryder Doyle and Cash Doyle, extended family, and a wide circle of friends who will carry his legacy of love, laughter, and perseverance.

Please join us in a celebration of Jason's life on Saturday, August 30, 2025, at 5:00 p.m. at the Cavin Cook Funeral Home. In honor of Jason's easygoing spirit, feel free to wear whatever makes you feel comfortable. The family will receive friends following the service at the funeral home.

Jason's life reminds us that even in the face of adversity, joy is possible, laughter is healing, and love is everything.

In lieu of flowers, charitable donations may be made to Adaptive Sports & Adventures Program (ASAP-www.atriumhealthfoundation.org/asap/).

Cavin-Cook Funeral Home, Mooresville, NC is proudly serving the Doyle family.

“ My name is Larry Christian, many people know me by the name Strain. I met Jason 2 years ago in a trading group and we traded almost everyday. The memories I have of him would have to be his genuine kindness and motivational attitude towards life. He is a true champion and I remember once when he shared the physical condition he was in and we were all surprised because he was superman to us in our trading group. Jason would make trades that went 600% in literally 5 min while most of us was struggling to still find a trade to take. He would attempt to share but they happen so quick that you gotta be able to catch them and get out of them with him lol. What a guy! Im just hearing about this today September 8 and Im hurt from the news. We spoke a few weeks ago through messaging and he reminded me to keep up the good work. He was always watching and motivating me and I want him to know Im going to keep up the good work. Ive never met Jason in person but his personality was very uplifting and just made you want to be better. You will be missed here in Alpine buddy and we will never forget you. Love you dude

“ I met Jason in Alpine and discord. I always used to get so excited when he'd post, he was so good! Seeing him win and taking trades with him daily was such a boost in confidence. What an amazing human. His persistence, personality, and achievements will live forever as testimony of his gains. I remember celebrating our wins together, and grieving our losses, now we mourn the greatest loss of all our plays. Love and miss you bro, until we meet again 🙏

“ I met Jason in our Alpine Discord of options traders. I noticed he hasn't been online in a couple of weeks and became concerned. After a quick search I found this page and I am beyond heartbroken. Jason always took the time to help and explain his strategies to me. He was a class act all the way. I am so sorry to hear this news. My prayers and condolences go out to his family and friends. May God's peace and comfort flood your hearts.

Jason and I were in a trading discord together. He later became one of my daily inspirations as I'm dealing with my second leg surgery. I can't imagine the amount of others he's inspired. Truly lived life to the fullest and was a pleasure to associate with. Jason will be missed by so many. God bless

“ There are about 10 of us who shared the dog park with him. We are deeply shocked and very saddened to hear the news of his passing. Our dogs are also saddened to not play with Tucker. What a wonderful human being he was. Our hearts are with family during this time. Dog Park Mafia

“ I met Jason years ago after being introduced by a mutual friend. I had a petsitting business & watched his sweet dog, Colt, a couple of times. Boy, did he love his dog! I did my absolute best to love on & spoil Colt as much as Jason did, so it wasn't too much of a bummer for Colt to be stuck with me for a couple of days while his dad was away. But you can't compete (even with a lot of treats) when you're going up against the BEST Dog Dad EVER!!!! While I didn't know Jason well, I will say that you only had to meet Jason once (even if just for five minutes) to like him/love him/want to be around him! He threw kindness & comedy around like confetti & was always welcoming to everyone. The life of the party! I haven't spoken to Jason in years, but when our mutual friend reached out & told me the news, it really hurt my heart. Because Jason was just an A++ guy & he made the world a better place just by being himself & giving other people one smile & one laugh & one hug at a time. My thoughts & prayers & deepest heartfelt condolences to Jason & his family & friends because I know they're hurting with such a big loss of such a kind, happy-go-lucky guy. And while I so hate it that he's not still earth-side, I picture Jason up in Heaven with his beloved Colt on his lap & by his side—two peas in a pod re-united.

“ Jason was a sweetheart and a charmer with a quick wit and a great sense of humor. When my daughter, Stephanie became Clayton's "plus one", Jason fell right in line and became "their plus one"- a package deal!!
Jason was usually the comedian in the room as well as a great conversationalist!
Jason's two loving nephews, Ryder & Cash have been very blessed to have had him in their lives for as long as they did. They spent a lot of time with their FUNCLE (funny uncle)! And I too, feel very blessed to be able to call Jason "family".
Jason was loved by many and will be truly missed by all whose lives were touched by him.
My prayer is to thank God for setting Jason free and to pray that everyone is able to find peace in Jason's everlasting peace.

“ I will always remember my cousin Jason as someone who would light up a room and bring laughter to any conversation and that did not change after his accident. One of my earliest memories of our childhood was his favorite color...purple. As a kid the choice of purple stood out to me. That was a bit of foreshadowing for his personality and character. Jason stood out, his character and personality stayed with you. He was the life of the party, easy to talk to and could get you laughing pretty quickly. He always had a great story to tell or an old memory of the cousins that would bring us all laughter.

Never having a brother, my cousins are like brothers to me. I spent many summers with Clayton and Jason. We had a lot in common and always had a great time together. Our Grandmother would often watch us while our dads were working and take us on errands to the bank. Our favorite thing to do was to wait until she got out of the car then crank the volume of her radio so that when she got back in the car and turned it on it would startle her. As we got older I noticed how competitive Jason was. It really came out with his brother Clayton, no matter if it was big wheel racing, bikes, go karts, or racing video games, he wasn't going to give up until he figured out how to beat him. I enjoyed watching their arguments and competitions. It was great entertainment.

Jason liked food. He liked to cook and my first memory of that was when I moved to Mooresville, I lived with my aunt, uncle, Clayton, and Jason. Jason was probably 14 or 15 at the time and he always helped with the meals. If we were having Kraft Macaroni and Cheese with our meal Jason made it. If you didn't know (Jason taught me) there is an art to making the best tasting Kraft Macaroni and Cheese and Jason had mastered it. Even at recent family get togethers, Jason was often by the grill, playfully correcting his dad on how he was undercooking or overcooking the meat.

Jason was a hard worker from a young age. Dinner is where families connect and it was that way in Jason's home. The only dinner conversations I can remember while I lived there were Jason telling his dad about Clayton not doing chores like picking up dog poop, taking out the trash and sweeping the garage. Jason would always call out Clayton for not doing his chores and tell Clayton, "but don't worry Clayton I got it for you."

Jason was an early riser. He woke up early all the time! He seemed to always have something to do or somewhere to be. He always had a ton of initiative and loved to work. He seemed ready to get out of the house as soon as he could. I wasn't surprised when he quickly rose to managing a landscape crew that serviced high end homes around the lake. He was smart, innovative and knew how to hustle.

Jason was a champion, he did not let his accident define him. He battled lengthy pain and suffering years after his accident. It seemed like one complication after the other. But through it all he stayed strong and positive. It should be no surprise because that's who Jason was, he found the positive in every situation. Even through his trials he used his experience and found the energy to help motivate others. I will miss my cousin's contagious smile, easy going spirit, and great conversations but I will always cherish the moments of life we shared.

“ I had the privilege of meeting Jason in 2020, Covid year! First impression was funny, smart, and very welcoming. He welcomed my kids very warmly as well. Over the last five years of getting to know him better it was quite evident his nephews were a priority and he loved being a "fun uncle". Family was important to him and he and his Dad shared a strong, close bond. I have learned that he did more things than many of us will ever do in our time here on earth. When not in pain, he lived life to fullest. God Bless he is resting with his beloved Colt and Grandfather... I am reminded that neither life or death can separate us from the Love of Christ. Romans 8:38-39 "38 For I am sure that neither death nor life, nor angels nor rulers, nor things present nor things to come, nor powers, 39 nor height nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord"

“ I met Jason through adaptive waterskiing many years ago. We became fast friends after. Jason was a funny, caring and strong person. Our family loved him and adored him. I enjoyed our phone calls and hanging out when we camped and at his pool. We always kept in touch when we moved away to SC. You will be missed and always thought about my friend. Love you
