Unforgettable, that's what you are! From rides in the Suburban on Adirondack, making me laugh until my stomach hurt, to teaching me how to ride a bike and drive a stick shift. You truly were a bright light in my life!

“ John was a close friend, big brother, mentor, and IBM colleague. Working together in IBM for many years, we worked hard and at times played hard. John would organize boat parties on the great south bay, where I first learned how to water ski. John was always there to help anyone who needed assistance, whether work related or even help us with stuff related to fixing up our homes. I will miss all the parties we had over the years that included birthdays, Halloween, and Christmas. Whenever I needed John's support with something going on in our accounts, I always remember somehow him just showing up to lend a hand. John was always generous with his time and I will never forget that.

“ John was my brother. He had a significant impact to me and my family. We did not have a lot of money but we had each other. When my mother could no longer be alone in her house, my sister and John converted one of their bedrooms to look just like hers. When I needed to update our single bathroom, John and I did the update in a weekend so my wife and kids had a functioning bathroom. He opened the door for me so I could get an interview with IBM, which I retired from. I will miss him.
