“ I will never forget John Cherveney. His friendly demeanor and sense of humor always made him easy to talk too. I will always cherish our long conversations about our kids, family, and life. John was a wise man and had a big heart for those he loved. I am thankful that I had an opportunity to get to know this man of God. I will miss you my friend but happy that you are free of this world of sorrow and pain. May God rest your soul.

“ If I could think of one word to describe John, I would choose “Champion.” He was a co-worker, mentor, and most of all, a good friend. He believed in doing the right thing, encouraged and helped others, treated everyone as if they mattered, and almost always sported a big smile. I admired his strong faith and positive outlook. While my life is a little sadder with him gone, the heavens have a bright new star. I imagine him fishing, telling his corny jokes and being free from pain. He didn’t ask for much, but gave with his whole heart. I know that my life is a little better because it was touched by him. Go with God now, Cherv. I’ll catch you on the backside.
