

John Duncan Tolmie

August 12, 1933 - March 22, 2015

Dr. John D. Tolmie, a retired anesthiologist and Rear Admiral in the United States Navy Reserve, died March 22nd after a long illness. He was born in Toronto, Canada on August 12, 1933 to Sadie Bentley Tolmie and Duncan Arnott Tolmie, and moved to Geneva NY at the end of World War 11 with his family. He graduated from Geneva High School as president of the senior class and winning the Masonic student's citizenship award for the outstanding citizen of the senior class. He received his baccalaureate degree at Hobart College, where he won basketball numerals and a letter in lacrosse.

He earned both his M. D. C. M. degrees at McGill University in Montreal, Canada, where he was a member of Nu Sigma Nu Fraternity. A rotating internship followed at the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal. Shortly thereafter he married the former Sigrid Joan Hamlin in Ottawa, Canada. After serving briefly on staff at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital in Montreal, he was commissioned as an Ensign and then Lt. in the U. S. Navy and assigned as squadron medical officer for MINRON-9 (Minesweeper Squadron 9), stationed in Long Beach, CA. He and his wife lived in Long Beach for one year, and their daughter, Suzie, was born there. He was then transferred to NOTS (Naval Ordnance Test Station) China Lake, in the Mojave Desert, where their daughter, Kim, was born. While serving for 2 years as a general medical officer at the Station Hospital there, he attended the Navy Deep Sea Diving School in Washington DC, and was certified as a Diving Medical Officer. They next moved to Haddonfield NJ, where he trained at the Philadelphia Naval Hospital in Philadelphia PA., and their son, Ian, was born. Dr. Tolmie took one-year residencies in both general surgery and otolaryngology, and then completed his anesthesiology residency. His next assignment was to Guam, Marianas Islands, where he was commissioned as a Commander, and served as Chief of Anesthesiology at USNH Guam. He received the presidential unit citation for casualty care during the Tet Offensive of the Vietnam War. The Tolmies then moved to Camp Lejeune NC, where Dr. Tolmie was also Chief of Anesthesiology. In June of 1970, he led a medical team from Camp Lejeune which joined two other Navy medical teams aboard the LST4-USS GUAM to care for victims of the catastrophic earthquake in Peru.

In 1970, Dr. Tolmie left active duty in the Navy as a Commander to join the Anesthesiology Department at Bowman Gray School of Medicine of Wake Forest University in Winston-Salem NC, but would serve in the Naval Reserve for the next 20 years. He was an assistant professor in the Department of Anesthesia at BGSM for four years, and then became an associate professor in that department. In 1975 he became Associate Dean of Student Affairs at the medical school, then Associate Dean for Student Services, and in 1989 became Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, a post which he held for seven years. In 1990 Tolmie was awarded the Legion of Merit from President George Bush for "exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding service as Deputy Atlantic Fleet Surgeon from March 1984 through September 1990". He retired from the Naval Reserve in 1990. His last service was a 10-day tour of duty as acting Atlantic Fleet Surgeon as part of Operation Desert Shield. After retiring from this position, he taught anatomy and then became the first Director of Emeritus Affairs at Wake Forest University Medical School until May, 2000, when he retired completely from medical academia.

During his tenure at the medical school, Dr. Tolmie served on the Promotions

Committee, Faculty Executive Council and Committee on Medical Education. He was a consultant for the Naval Reserve Medical Committees at both Camp Lejeune and Portsmouth VA, an onsite visitor for the Council on Accreditation of the American Association of Nurse Anesthetists, and secretary/treasurer for the Southern Regional Group on Student Affairs of the American Association of Medical Colleges, as well as Vice-Chairman and Chairman of this same organization. He was National Director for Naval Reserve Anesthesia Affairs, a member of the Advisory Committee for Medical Students of the North Carolina State Medical Society, and a member of the Reserve Affairs Committee of the Society of Consultants of the Armed Forces. He was a member of the Society of Medical Consultants of the Armed Forces, a charter member of the American Pain Society, and a member of the Naval Reserve Medical Flag Council. He served as Navy Representative to the Department of Defense Reserve Components Medical Council and Executive Council Member of the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States (AMSUS). In 1987-88, he was an associate professor in the Department of Anesthesia of the McMaster University Faculty of Medicine in Hamilton, Ontario, Canada. While there, he studied a model Canadian medical education program, small group Problem Based Learning, (based on a method of teaching developed at Harvard University called Case-Based Learning) which he returned to help implement at Bowman Gray School of Medicine. This mode of teaching is still being used at Wake Forest University School of Medicine.

Dr. Tolmie gave a number of scientific presentations on such wide-ranging topics as acupuncture, cardiopulmonary resuscitation, anesthesia problems in various types of patients, recovery room issues, pain management, and medical education matters. He and his colleague, Dr. Alexander Birch, co-authored a popular textbook for medical students entitled Anesthesia for the Uninterested, which was translated into seven languages, and printed in two editions. Of his published medical journal articles, one, in particular, contained groundbreaking information. In the Journal of Anesthesiology (1967), he and Dr. Thomas Joyce and Dr. George Mitchell wrote an article entitled "Succinylcholine Danger in the Burned Patient". This was a common drug used at the time for patients having general anesthesia, and these researchers discovered that it was responsible for causing cardiac arrest.

Dr. Tolmie also served on the vestries of both St. John's Episcopal Church on Guam and St. Timothy's Episcopal Church in Winston-Salem.

He is survived by his wife of over 50 years, Joan, his daughter Suzie and her husband Rusty and their children Hamlin, Ian and Raef, of Nashville TN, his daughter Kim and her husband Brad and their children Wellsley, Madison and Bryn of Atlanta GA and his son Ian and his wife Jennifer and their children Dodge and Duncan of Seattle WA. He is sadly predeceased by his dear grandson Dane of Seattle WA. He is also survived by his three brothers-in-law, Howard Hamlin of Collingwood ON, Canada, Bill Hamlin of Canandaigua NY, and Geof Hamlin of Ottawa ON, Canada and their families. He will be missed by many for his integrity, kindness, irrepressible sense of humor, and encyclopedic knowledge concerning WW11 and military aviation, as well as automobiles and sports. He served also as a constant source of medical knowledge and advice for his family, friends and neighbors.

In lieu of flowers, please send donations to: Institute for Systems Biology, 401 Terry Ave. N., Seattle WA 98109, Attn: Sissy Bouchard(in memory of Dane Tolmie).

A memorial service will be held on Saturday, April 4th at 3:30 pm at Cavin-Cook Funeral Home and Crematory, 494 East Plaza Drive, Mooresville NC, 28115. Tel: (704) 664-3363. www.cavin-cook.com. A reception will follow at Trump National Golf Club, 120 Trump Square, Mooresville, NC 28117 (the

“ I admired John as much as I admired my precious father who recently passed. John and Joan took me under their wings when we first moved to Mooresville and my husband went to Iraq. He was larger than life and he made life larger for everyone he came in contact with. We are better people for having known him.

“ I cannot visualize Dr. Tolmie without his brilliant smile. He and his beautiful wife, Joan, are two of a kind - beautiful, friendly, gracious individuals. I am proud to have worked for him as a secretary in the Anesthesia Department of Bowman Gray School of Medicine. One of my first assignments was to type (on a regular typewriter) the book he co-authored with Dr. Birch.

“ I hope it is appropriate to tell you that when Dr. Tolmie--Admiral Tolmie--left the campus for the last time, he got a salute from a retired Marine. Honor is part of his legacy, and that will last till all of time be done.

“ Probably most friends knew John as an adult but since I'm his cousin and 3 years older my memories include John as a little kid too. Our fathers were brothers- 2 of the 10 children of Duncan and Rachel Tolmie. Our families lived in Toronto back in the '30s and we would get together quite often . Some of my memories centre around the Tolmie farm "Glenholm " near Lindsay where we city kids would have the opportunity to explore that 150 acre farm and its animals . While there we could compete to see who could swing highest on that swing hanging from a tree in the lane . John and I would watch the menfolk as they gathered around the cars and machinery .The women would all be in the house preparing the food and chatting and there would always be freshly baked scones and a meal around the kitchen table. John was such fun !! And over the years it was always fun to get together and share stories and laughter !Then we reached the age to move away to pursue education toward a career . John headed to McGill U. in Montreal toward a medical degree .I chose Queen's U. in Kingston and while completing a degree in nursing I met my future husband - John Romeril . Cousin John shared in our special day as a groomsman at our wedding . in the ensuing years careers and families and travels followed . Then in retirement we have strengthened that special bond with John and Joan . Today , although we are not able to attend the celebration in Mooresville ,we join our hearts and tears and love and laughter with the family and friends in a salute to the memory of a very special person, John Duncan Tolmie!!!

“Joan, Suzie, Kim and Ian: Our prayers and thoughts are with you and your families during this time of sorrow. John was truly a great man. He was a loving husband, father, grandfather and true friend to many. John was a constant learner, but also a constant mentor. I have such fond childhood and adult memories of our families spending holidays and many special weekends together. John always made everyone feel so comfortable and he had that captivating and inviting smile that you just felt safe being around him. We will miss you, but always hold you in our memories and heart.

“To Joan and Family: John is at the core of many of my fondest memories, working and enjoying life, in Winston. I still vividly recall his direct, and yet remarkably friendly, talk at employee orientation over 22 years ago, which made me resolve to know this man better - whether I was going to be working with him or not. That turned out to be one of the best decisions I ever made. Countless students have John to thank for much of their medical education and I can thank him for much of what I learned about educating medical students and about running a program. The facts that he and you have been such good friends to me and that we shared many good times simply add more to the legend of Tolmie. I and all who were familiar with John share your loss. You can take a full measure of strength and comfort from knowing of the many lives John made better in many ways.

I was never in the OR with John, but shared many hours with him during the eight years that I was in Student Services at the medical center. I'll remember him for his unfailing enthusiasm and upbeat manner. I'm reminded of him each time I use the exercise facility on the E-Floor that he championed so the students could conveniently have a healthy break from studies. He was always excited about ideas that enhanced student learning or well-being. We know that you find great comfort in his well-lived life. Blessings, Mike and Sandee

“ To the Tolmie family,I was very sad to hear about Dr. Tolmie's passing. I remember his kindness and smile and that his was one of the most understandable accents when I arrived at Bowman Gray in 1977! He teased me for all of medical school about the blank (very nearsighted) look I had given him at the YMCA pool. I did an anesthesiology preceptorship and almost went into anesthesiology because of him. He was a true physician mentor/teacher and is warmly remembered.

“ Dr. Tolmie - Fair Winds and Following Seas. In August of 1989 I walked into the medical school for a job interview that went on to change my life. Dr. Tolmie hired me as his secretary. I am convinced I got the job because I was Canadian. He embraced life, was an avid listener, so humble, and took a personal interest in everyone he met and brought a refreshing perspective to the workplace. I will never forget walking into the office on Canada Day July 1st and feeling a bit blue because I had to work that day and out of nowhere the music of Oh Canada came booming out of a cassette player. Dr. Tolmie took time for the little things that really meant a lot. He led by example and had a profound influence on my life as a role model and mentor. I continue to think about how he would handle a situation and act accordingly. The workday always started with a cup of coffee as we talked about the day ahead. There was always time to talk about our families. He was so proud of his children and grandchildren. I always felt like he and Joan adopted me into their family. He gave sage advice about child rearing and it was a joyous day for me when he gave the toast to the bride at my wedding. So many good memories of times spent with our international visiting students from Japan, Norway, and nurses from Malaysia. He was a true ambassador for the school of medicine. I will miss his sense of humor, his smile and warm openness and love of life but will carry warm memories in my heart and strive to live by his example. Joan and family, thank you for sharing a wonderful man with all of my family.

“ Dr. Tolmie was a class act all the way. I still remember him teaching our Anatomy Lab practical sessions, and going from table to table to help us figure things out. I will never remember when I was having what I thought was a very, very serious discussion with him over our anatomy lab table, and I remarked, "It is very important to learn from your mistakes," and he wittily replied, "Ah, and it is MUCH better, and even MORE important to learn from mistakes that OTHER people make!!" This statement, of course, was followed by his big grin (see all the wonderful photos in this site and others... He was probably a recruiter's dream with that grin - so happy in the US Navy!) Rest in peace, professor; you made a huge difference in many peoples' lives, and we shall all remember and celebrate you. May God bless you and your family. Thank you for your role in my education. Your smile was infectious, your zeal for teaching was memorable, and you shall not be forgotten.

“ Joan and Family,Becky and I extend to you our deepest sympathies. John was many things to me in my career at Bowman Gray... a teacher, a Dean, a friend and most of all, a role model of what it is to a physician in the classic sense of the word. His smile, his love of medicine, his great sense of humor and his genuine compassion for people are the things I will always remember and try to emulate. Our school, our profession and our nation are the better for what he gave us.

“ Dear Joan, Our hearts go out to you and your family during this time. We will miss the cheerful weekly phone calls and the constant upbeat perspective of you both. He was a most amazing man and it speaks volumes that we never knew of his many accomplishments during our interactions with you both.

“ I was saddened on learning of John's passing. He was to me the embodiment of the spirit of Bowman Gray, positive and direct in his interactions with students and faculty alike. He could always get a laugh and smile out of me as he helped me to move ahead with the job at hand. The School and all who were with him owe him much. We are all the better for our times with him.

“ John was a superb anesthesiologist and teacher, with a keen wit. I remember fondly the twinkle in his eye and his mischievous smile. He was that rare highly skilled operating room clinician who did not take himself too seriously. I, too, think of ANESTHESIA FOR THE UNINTERESTED when I think of John. In it he and Al Birch presented the essentials of anesthesia for medical students and residents rotating on anesthesia, holding their attention with humor and photos of "the Ether Bunny." John served his country, his profession and his fellow man in an exemplary fashion.

“Joan and family, Aimee and I send our deepest sympathy to all of you. Our earliest Bowman Gray/Wake Forest memories involve many "John & Joan Tolmie" moments. The invaluable and always welcomed parent advice from you both as we were simply "starting out." Now four children later (oldest is 17 yrs), we continue to our best to prioritize the kids at every step -- just as you both always encouraged. John was an amazing educator, compassionate in his roles and an authentic colleague and mentor. We wish you the happiest of memories and regret that we can not get to the memorial service. Our best to all, Michael & Aimee Lischke

“Dear Joanie, Suzie, Kim and Ian I was very very saddened to hear about John. He was indeed a remarkable kind man. I am happy that you were all there with him. I have many wonderful fun memories, being at Lake Norman and Christie Lake with the whole family. Keep and cherish his warm memories close to your heart. Thinking of you all at this time. With love Joanne Hamlin

“I spent many hours down at your house when I was just a little girl. Your Mom and Dad were always so fun and sweet to me. I am so very sorry to hear about your dad. He was truly a special man that will be missed by all who knew him. Thinking of and praying for all of the family during this difficult time. Love you!

“ I am saddened to learn of John's passing. He was a wonderful man, great clinician, and the possessor of a sense of humor that both knew when to be funny, and when to lighten the mood during stressful times. I was probably 8 or 10 years out of Winston-Salem, when out of the blue he and Joan appeared on my back deck. His son lives not far from me, and they somehow knew where I lived and showed up for a visit. That unexpected visit was an example of one of his great qualities - he never forgot those who owe so much to his teaching and friendship.

“ Dr. Tolmie was the Assistant Dean during my four years at Bowman Gray. He was such a special mentor and educator. He taught me that being a physician was to be a gentleman and not to be afraid to add a sense of humor while we practiced Medicine. He will be remembered fondly and missed by all who knew him. God bless.

“ Dear Joanie and family, It was so thoughtful of you to send us the sad news of John's death. I send my condolences to you all...for you have indeed lost your love and soul-mate, to say nothing of great Dad and Grandpa. I will be thinking of you on Saturday April 4th as you say your farewells ...and will write you at a later date. Lots of love from one of the MGH gang, Nancy R.

“ Dr. Tolmie was such an incredibly wonderful human being. he demonstrated great wisdom, great knowledge and tremendous compassion in his role as a teacher of medical students. I remember the time I spent studying with him with pleasure. His warm and witty personality made even the most difficult situations more than bearable. Rest in peace good doctor. The world you have left is certainly better because of all you did while you were here!

“ To the Family Tolmie: My heartfelt and deepest condolences to you all at this time of great loss. I was moved to write when I heard that Dr. Tolmie had passed. He was my mentor, adviser, teacher and friend. As a medical student, he guided me in the ways of the Navy. He told me to respect and listen to the nursing staff and my NCOs and that they would take care of me. They did just that throughout my Naval Career. I am now a retired Naval Captain. He also gave me the words I live by - "Do something nice for yourself every day" - I try to remember this and to do something nice for someone else every day as well. He taught me a lot about being an Officer and being a Doctor. I will miss him very much. I only hope that he knows how much he influenced my life.

“ Dad, I'm so thankful that I was able to get home on Saturday to spend time with you. It was difficult seeing you in that condition but that time with you I will cherish for the rest of my life. This past weekend the world has lost a great person, America has lost a great American, our family has lost our leader and I have lost my best friend, my mentor and my hero. You will never be forgotten. I love you so much!

“ Hi, Dad - You were such a remarkable man. A big part of that was being the best dad ever for us. We already miss you tremendously but know you will be part of us forever. Thank you for teaching us, shaping us and loving us and Mom as much as you did! We feel privileged to be yours - and to have been all together as you left this world. You were determined to tell us how much you loved us and even remind us of your keen sense of humor - these will be lasting memories for us. Our love for you will never die. Love, Suzie, Kim and Ian

“ I have many warm memories of John beginning when we were both in Philly to do our anesthesia residencies. He was at the Naval Hospital and I was at HUP. I was delighted when he joined the faculty at BGSM and enjoyed many years of working with him. He was so proud of his children. Joan and John were a wonderful and loving couple. Frank James

“ Always cheerful, eager to teach, an excellent anesthesiologist. Never heard a bad comment about him. Excellent sense of humor and a great family man. I loved the book he co-authored: ANESTHESIA FOR THE UNINTERESTED (I believe that was the title). He spiced up a sometimes boring subject with a little "cheese cake" that helped keep up the interest. A positive influence where ever he went. We will miss him. George Plonk

“ I remember him as irrepressibly kind. He had a constant demeanor of authentic friendliness and a sincere interest in others. It was a privilege to know him and I was proud that he was a family friend. A model physician and person.

“ A memory that always makes me smile: When I lived in Boulder, CO, John and Joan came out for a different event, but made a point to look me up and take me out to lunch. They offered to take me anywhere, and as a broke student working 3 summer jobs, I really wanted to eat at the fancy restaurant where I waitressed (I was 23, what can I say). So we arrived, me and the statuesque, elegant Tolmies, and were seated, at which time John reached for the wine menu, perused, consulted with me (a courtesy, because I sold them but could never drink them! but a genuine courtesy), and ordered a bottle. Wine at lunch! This is how the other half lived! We had a delightful time, and I felt very sophisticated and fancy; John and Joan then, in their most generous and seamless way, made me feel like the most interesting lunch companion in the world. John insisted on paying, and as we all parted ways, they thanked me for taking them time to show them one of Boulder's gems. THEY thanked me. Paraphrasing Maya Angelou: people will forget what you said, and forget what you did, but will never forget how you made them feel. John knew that, and never missed an opportunity to make someone feel like they just made his day. :)

“ John easily had the biggest influence on so many of my career and personal decisions during the mid 1980s and early 1990s. He is the reason I pursued and obtained a Ph.D. It was his idea, his suggestion and my respect for what he thought that had me earn that credential. He was a constant support and advocate for my career and I will never forget how much he influenced every aspect of it. I loved working with him and never wanted to disappoint him. During a particularly nasty snowstorm, probably in 1990, the medical students had a test with standardized patients that required some of us be there to pull it off. He let me know the night before that he would pick me up on Knollwood Street (I had to walk out of the neighborhood) and that he and I would go and make sure this test happened. It was so awful that morning that I don't think he even stopped that BMW but downshifted enough for me to hop in and off we went. Many times were such an adventure with him! When he left the medical center for a short time during the Gulf War he asked me to spend time in his office each day so that it wouldn't look deserted. For fun, I replaced all of those family pictures of ski and tropical trips with framed male models just to see how long it would take him to notice on his return. I can tell you that it took exactly 1 nanosecond for him to grin that famous grin at me and say, "Nice touch. Where are my pictures?" He was so fun to laugh with and his sense of humor was just priceless. I am a better person for knowing him. I am a better person for having him as a mentor. I am a better person for having him as a friend. I feel so blessed that he was a major part of my life. I love and will miss him dearly.
