“ I'm so sorry to hear about Jon's passing. Myself and the rest of the Cloverlawn bunch had years of fun growing up with Jon. Undoubtedly, he was always years beyond his age. My dad would always say how Jon would talk to him like a grown adult and I remember one time when we rode our bikes up to the movies we stopped at KFC where there was a piece of hair in Jon's chicken. He went up and asked to speak to the manager and yes he spoke to the manager and I swear he talked to him like he was a grown adult, but yet he was probably only 13 or 14 years old at the time. I will also never forget the tree fort that his dad built next to the apartments and along the path in our walk to 7-11. We undoubtedly lived in an era on Cloverlawn that seems to no longer exist in this day and age. There was 15 or so of us who spent countless hours outside playing together, whether it was team tag, swimming, fishing, golfing, playing video games, bowling, summer rec at rose kidd, riding our bikes to the movies, playing football, baseball, hockey in our backyard ice rinks, and much more. John was an integral part of the great times we had growing up. Once again, I'm so sorry to hear about Jon's passing.
