“Joyce’s soul emanated love through her eyes and her beautiful smile. I enjoyed just being in her presence and adored how she loved the children of St. Therese. She saw Jesus in everyone she met and touched so many people including me and my family. Thank you for being a shining example of love and kindness.

“Sending lots of love from the Carr family. We loved Joyce so much. She was a second mom to me growing up and the Fahey’s house on Overlook was my second home. I was there alllll the time; she left the basement door unlocked and made it clear I was welcome any time. When the Faheys installed a freezer in their basement, they cleared a shelf for our big family and let us creep in at all hours to fill it up and raid it for dinner. She was the leader of our Girl Scout troop for seven years and a fixture at St. Eulalia’s. I’ll always appreciate her kind and generous nature, a terrific role model for a young, impressionable girl. Holding you all in my heart.

The death of Joyce, whose very name means JOY, shocked and saddened many of her friends. My favorite memory is when she was in charge of Social Butterflies. She planned a lunch for us somewhere north of Mooresville. During a delightful lunch, we were all laughing or smiling at one another.

“ Joyce (and Leo) always welcoming. The first time we met we were going to eat at the Knights of Columbus pancake breakfast. A fire alarm went off and we were instructed to leave. They overheard us discussing what we do now and they invited us to breakfast with their "group". We have been a member of that breakfast group for over 10 years. Joyce was the most kind and compassionate person I met. With that being said she could come up with quick witty comments. When I decided to let my hair grow out (no longer dying it) She asked my husband how he liked. His reply was not too enthusiastic and she replied it was a good thing it was not his hair lol She will be missed.

“ What a beautiful lady who always brightened my day upon seeing her. I know the family must be devastated by her loss and yet hopeful they will find comfort knowing where she now resides as they look forward to seeing her again someday. I feel blessed to have known her. May she now rest in peace.

There are no words to express the deep grief I share with all who loved Joyce. To Leo, Sean, Jade, Kerry and Michael and all the beautiful grandchildren...Joyce loved you all so much and shared this love with us, The Holy Women. We were blessed to have this beautiful woman in our life for over 50 years, through St. Eulalia's and then through our share group. The world is a darker place since our beloved "Peaches" left, but her love, kindness and joy will sustain us all. Judy Solari
