“ Larry came into our lives in the late 80's/ early 90's through my sister, Cathy. They both taught at the Jefferson Rd school in Pittsford and shared an interest in music and current events/politics. Their friendship developed into something stronger, and they later married in the summer of 1991. Favorite memories of Larry include many family dinners and especially the birthday dinners because Cathy or Larry were called to the piano to play the obligatory Happy Birthday. Larry was then required to follow Happy Birthday with Great Balls of Fire. Larry did the entire Jerry Lee Lewis routine including playing the piano with his feet.

They were great partners and weathered multiple health battles over their time together. I was always grateful for the loving care he provided my sister, both through her vision loss and later cancer.

I know that Larry had a great impact on many children at Jefferson Rd school and will be remembered fondly. What a great legacy to touch so many young lives.

My deepest condolences to Debbie, Steve, Collete, Bev, Jim, Nancy and their boys.

“ Larry was one of the "Good Guys." I knew him as an excellent teacher who made a real difference in the lives of children. Kind, compassionate, and understanding. I will miss our many communications and mindless banter.

Larry was part of the Jefferson Road School family, where I first met him when I started teaching in 1973. He was an excellent musician, and we shared a common bond with Jerry Lee Lewis, Dolly Parton (perhaps for two different reasons), and an endless supply of "quality" puns.

Additionally, my father-in-law was a fan of his musical talents at "Shakey's" pizza, where Larry performed with a three-piece "Gay Ninties" group.

He battled cancer and the loss of a son and always remained resilient. I will miss the occasional email that would make me smile and groan.
