“ You were my first cousin. But you were in your late 20s when us kids were born. And we as little babies called you and Mussy uncle. You were always good to me and excepted the role of Uncle Larry proudly and enjoyed it. We grew to have a good and caring relationship. I'd loved when you and Oakie would come in for a visit at Momma Jess's and I got to make you and Mussy the Prune Cakes that she taught me to make. And she always told all you guys every time any one of you would leave the house to "always remember that 20 minutes could get ya 20 years." We laughed so hard about that. I miss those days and I'll miss us texting each other checking up on everyone. And I'm going to miss you so dearly. I know your at peace now Uncle Larry fly high with angels
