As a servant leader, she poured her whole heart into each and every person in her life, consistently sacrificing herself for the good of others. “ I really got to know Liebe when she started The Threads of Hope ministry where we crocheted wash cloths for shoe boxes, crocheted lap blankets for nursing homes, fidget blankets for nursing home patients with dementia, and taking snacks to the hospital waiting room for persons that were waiting on a loved one during surgery. In talking with Liebe, she always had a positive response, and I can still hear her say, " It will be OK" no matter the situation. She truly had a sweet spirit, a compassionate heart and a love for the Lord and her family. She will ever be in our hearts!

“ Liebe was one of the most loving people I have ever known. All of the tributes below echo what a loving and beautiful friend she was. She was also such a strength and comfort when I was diagnosed with the same kind of cancer she had. She was an inspiration and a role model on how to fight a terrible illness with courage and grace. I love you and look forward to being with you someday in eternity.

“ Liebe was a special person. So loving, funny, witty, sweet. She never seemed to get upset. Always looking on the bright side. She was a walking miracle fighting cancer the way she did. God blessed her and she was a blessing to everyone who ever met her.

“ I lost a friend last weekend, as “death kindly stopped for her”. Liebe Brown was my rock and she was my angel. I loved her as a sister, I loved her as a friend, and my heart is breaking.

Liebe was wise. Liebe was sweet. Liebe was strong. Liebe was kind. She was devoted to her family, to her inner circle of friends, and, if I really think about it, to all who crossed her path. She treated people equally and never let their differences stand in the way. I am so fortunate to have known her and to have loved her. And I miss her already.

It saddens me to know that I'll never again hear that sweet voice, that vivacious laugh, nor see that thick golden hair.

Liebe left us a treasure here on Earth, and that was her daughter Kristi. Liebe showed us how to be a loving wife, a believer in Christ, a devoted daughter, a true-hearted sister, a loyal employee, and how to love nature, especially flowers, pearls, and dogs. Liebe loved being a mother-in-law to Cody, as she told me on numerous occasions.

I recall vividly asking Liebe about the meaning of her name. And she shared with me that her name meant love in German.

I think that says it all.

I could not write anything other than what Jeryl has written here. Liebe was the Angel of Love.

I only met Liebe in the past two years. From our first introduction she seemed like someone I had known for years. Very genuine in her friendship, always looking out for others. Such compassion and love of Christ she exemplified! Sympathy and love to Michael and family.

I will miss the positive view she had of the world and her friends. Nothing could beat her down. And she shared her love with all. I have wonderful memories of sharing a birthday month with her. Loved the coloring books and a bag of candy!!! She is missed.

“ Liebe was so beautiful inside and out. Her friendship was such a blessing to me. Her beautiful heart was what drew so many to her. She truly was one of a kind. I miss her so but I know she is with Jesus. I know without a doubt when Jesus welcomed her the first thing he said was "Well done my good and faithful servant." She will be missed every day.
