“ Hello Mr. Almond, I would say each time I walked through Maulden community at The Pines. I was very sad when I received the news of his passing. I'm one of the Life Enrichment Coordinators and Mr. Almond was one of my favorites. He may not have initiated the conversations, but we had our own way of communicating, what a nice person, he always said yes when asked if he wanted to join in on programing, especially any spiritual programming, Mr. Almond also was very good at trivia as well as testing out any of our baking club items. My condolences to the family, he will truly be missed. May God provide you with peace during this most difficult time. Evelyn

“ Milton was a good friend to my mother Opal Wicker--they worked together at Cavin-Cook Funeral Home back in the day. He often visited her after her dementia diagnosis. I will never forget this positive outlook, bright smile, and generosity.
