“ Prayers for family and the very many friends that will miss the craic. Out of respect, I'll leave the last line for you to fill in my friend.

May the road rise to meet you.

May the wind be always at your back.

May the sunshine warm upon your face.

May the rains fall gently upon your fields.

And until we meet again...

“ Paul and I went on our first date in 5th grade. We went to see The Three Musketeers. We remained good friends throughout high school, and then lost touch for the next 30 years. We reconnected about 10 years ago, and rekindled a wonderful friendship - mostly via text, and always full of his playful banter and wit. My heart goes out to Paul's family. My heart breaks with you. With much love, Liz Harvey - Topsfield, Ma (South Portland, Maine)

“ Though our friendship had waned in recent years, I still carry many memories from when we spent time together. Your wit, wisdom and uncanny ability to bs your way through things always impressed me. We are all touched by your kindness and generosity and left with a deep sadness that can only be resolved when we meet again. Rest in peace my friend

“ *"To the well-organized mind, death is but the next great adventure." J.K. Rowling
This quote immediately made me think of you, Paul. Though we haven't spoken personally in decades other than through social media, I will always remember our friendship fondly coupled with your amazing wit and kind spirit. May you be as blessed in the next life, my friend, as I was in this one by knowing you. Rest easy Paul and may your memory be eternal.*

My deepest sympathies to your family.

“ I cherished our friendship for over 40 years. You were always there when my life was difficult and you always brightened it up. I don't know if I'll ever forgive myself for missing our recent chats as I'll never have them again. Only if I knew you were sick I woulda dropped everything to help you in any way. Your one of the best friends I ever had and I'll miss you every day till I join you down the road. RIP Paul you deserve peace and happiness for eternity. Love you, Miss you
