“ Pete and I first met we got into a fight over a girl at some football game. One of those meet me behind the bleacher fights everyone hummed about. From that day on I loved Pete like my brother. Our friend group loved each other and do just as fiercely despite the time and miles between us. We talked about that fight often...and laughed. We had so much fun. The world is a different place without Pete. BUDS forever brother.

“ Although we have not seen Pete as much since he moved with his family to North Carolina, he always held a special place in our hearts. He truly cared for his friends and loved ones, and was incredibly giving of his time and attention. His humor was absolutely contagious. There were many times we were truly rolling on the floor laughing. Rest in peace my friend.
