“ My sincere condolence to the Shoe family in the loss of Phillip Wesley Shoe. I did not know this man but to lift him up and hold him tight to the Lord, I am writing this to celebrate the wonderful daughter, Jennifer Shoe, a precious daughter that he and his wife gave to this world. She is the most genuine, caring, Christ sharing daughter and a testament to her father and mother. I know this - from the bottom of my heart I know this because I have had occasion to encounter Jennifer and talk to her for hours on end. I have seen her in action - she is a true soldier of God and I know Mr. Shoe was so proud to be her father. And I am so blessed to have known her! Ruby Finch, Greensboro, NC.

“ Phil was the baby out of nine children. Growing up we were always watching over him, and making sure he was okay. When he received his ALS diagnosis a year ago, I believe we took the news harder than he did. We promised him at the beginning that we would walk this journey with him and he would never be alone. Our hearts were breaking as we watched this illness take its toll on his body, but we tried to keep his spirits up as best we could. As Phil's journey ended and he took his last breathe, we were with him, and he knew how much he was loved. Our mom passed away a year ago just as Phil was diagnosed. As he took his last breathe with us on this earth, I believe he took his first breathe in heaven with mom, our sister Marsha, and brother Ronnie by his side. Phil will be forever missed and always loved.

“ With a heavy heart, I will say my last goodbye to Phil today.

Phil was always there to help out, he was a wonderful friend and neighbor.

Phil had such a winning smile, great disposition, mostly cheerful.

Phil had a few rough patches through the years, always came through them with a good outlook.

Phil received his death sentenced a little more than a year ago. ALS robbed him of a future. he became a prisoner within his own body.

He is now at peace, no longer a victim of this cruel disease.

Phil it was a pleasure to call you my friend.

May we meet again in the heavens above.

Til that day, I bide you a final farewell

Your dear friend

“ I met Phil only a few years ago .
My sister was his neighbor and when we would visit from Colorado, we often would sit on her porch in the evenings . Phil would arrive home and walk across the street to say hello , shoot the breeze , fill us in on local events . Best guy in the world . One trip we had a transportation issue getting from the airport and who , but Phil ! Showed up in Charlotte to drive us to Mooresville . Complete southern gentlemen . Talked about his mama and his children with love and patience . Phil found out our mother missed the chicken livers from KFC . They are not available in Colorado .
On our next visit to Mooresville , Phil shows up shortly after our arrival with boxes of KFC chicken livers! I loved his thick southern accent and his down home hospitality and kindness. I know he will be sorely missed by his family and friends. I count myself lucky to have had the opportunity to meet such a man as he .
Rest In Peace , Phil . Your earthly suffering is over .
