“ I was saddened to learn of Randy's passing. Like so many of his friends, I became acquainted with him at Starbucks. He was always affable and genuinely enjoyed conversation and companionship. There are many folks who will miss seeing Randy at his usual haunt. May Our Lord be with the Brotherton family during this time of loss and grief.

“ Sincere condolences to Randy's wife, family, and friends. Unfortunately for my family we never met Dawn my cousin and her husband Randy. It a shame for us that we never met this wonderful man that everyone is speaking of, I have to sincerely believe he had a wonderful life between his social life in Starbucks and his wonderful loving wife who was there for him at this difficult time

“ Randy was a great guy and had a big heart. We met Randy at Starbucks and from day one he made us feel like we knew him forever. As newcomers to the area he made sure he introduced us to everyone he knew that came in. Now, thanks to Randy, we have a “family” at Starbucks. Randy thank you for being who you were. Thanks for the laughs and knowledge you shared. We will miss you and never ever forget you.

“ Randy was friends with my husband Frank and I. I looked forward to seeing him at Starbucks. I did so just weeks ago. He squeezed my hand. A kind hearted man, Randy often bought every ticket our granddaughter was selling for fundraisers. He loved her. He is surely the friendliest man to ever sit on that couch at Starbuck's. I often drink my coffee out of a mug he gave me from there. Randy , thank you for being our friend. You are in your forever home. Heaven is Rejoicing! You were a Good and Faithful servant .

“ I moved to Mooresville a bit over 3 years ago and started going to the Starbuck's at exit 33. I quickly learned that Randy was "the man" and I sat with him so I could meet people, seeing as he seemed to know everyone in town. He was always friendly and kind to me and even used to give me his special seat on the couch when I was waiting for a hip replacement and was not comfortable elsewhere. He is greatly missed there by all of his friends.
