“ Sue and Family, our deepest sympathies on Jack's passing. We have such fond memories of Jack. The last time we were together was this past June for dinner that included his sister Nancy, my wife Jean Marie and my sister Mary and her husband David. We spent over three hours talking and laughing about old family memories. The night ended with Jack conversing in Italian with the waiter. Unfortunately I cannot type what was said but we laughed until we cried. He had such a love of life and his family. Rest in peace and cheers to one of a kind! You will be missed.

“From the moment we met Sam I were instant friends. Not because of who I am or anything I did, it was all Sam. He was always there with a smile and a word of encouragement for everyone. Through the many laughs and adventures we had, Sam made life interesting and fun. He always had a surprise up his sleeve. He gave me great support in some trying times, taking time out of the day to make sure I was OK.

I love him like a brother. He is forever unforgettable. Sam and Susan asked me to say a prayer of blessings at their wedding. Maybe it's because whenever I brought up the reasons for the hope I have within me, Sam had a ready ear. We all know in our heart that we are eternal beings. That a creator is the best explanation for the way things are and Christ is the best evidence of a creator. Sam understood hubility and grace. I believe he new Jesus is the way the truth and life. This is all that is required for me to know I will see my friend again. You may as well.

“ I have lost a great cousin, friend and sidekick with which we had many adventures together throughout our lives. We were buddies since we were toddlers and got into our fair share of trouble too. So glad I was able to spend time with him and Sue in NC also with my son John and great grandson Owen, enjoying their loving company and Sue’s wonderful cooking. Recently visited this past June and had fun boating on the lake. A great time!
We shall not see the likes of Jack again, a one of a kind man!
All my love from your cousin David. Please send prayers to both Jack and Sue. 🙏❤️❤️❤️
