“ Life is such that you'll never know when it'll ends. My sweet dearest and soulmate Amy, I am missing you so much that I can't express it in words. i will continue with what we have planned as I'm sure this is what you would want me to do. I love you dearly and I know that you are smiling from above together with the Angels. I'm forever missing you.For Cody and Hunter, Mommy has never left you both she is forever in your heart. You know where to find me if you need me. Aunty Aiti will always be there when you need me ok. For George, this is a very difficult time for all of us. My condolences to you and Amy knows the kids are in good hands. Take care and God bless.

“ To the Allen and Tan families: I'm so sorry for your loss. I worked with Amy at Clarke American and remember her very fondly. She and George and 2 other coworkers gave me a bridal shower some 20 years ago at their house at the lake. George took us out on the lake in his boat. We had a great time. Good memories.

“ Amy your passing on has been a great shock to us and to all those who knew you. Your vibrant personality and that beautiful smile of yours will always be remembered. We are still coming to terms especially Aiti Wan. We know you will be up there watching over her and your loved ones. Cody and Hunter, it is not easy to find the right words to convey our heartfelt condolences. But you are in our thoughts and prayers. Your mum's love for you both we know will help you go through this difficult and painful time. Be strong. Only time can slowly heal this void left in your life and overcome the pain. RIP Amy. RIP
