“ Terry was the best brother in the world. He was only 15 months younger than me so we grew up together. Him being the pesky brother sometimes - well, he loved to pick on the girls. But he always was my protector, from childhood to adulthood. Whether it was bullies at the bus stop or boyfriends he wasn't sure of, he was always there for me. I can't express the sadness our family is facing and the reality that he is gone is still hard to accept. But one thing we know for sure, he was a great man, a Christian, a great son, brother, husband, father, and the best grandpa in the world. We will miss him so much but know his light is shining down from heaven to protect and comfort us. We love you Brother.

“ Dear Eudy family, Our prayers are with you all. Terry was our insurance agent for many many years and always, always, looked out for our best interests. Like many of his customers, we went where he went! You knew he was all about his family by the pictures he kept in view. In later years, he spoke often of his grandchildren and how much he enjoyed having them sleep over and you could tell there was great love there from him and from his grandchildren to him. It gave him much happiness. He is greatly missed but love never dies and heaven is brighter with his presence! May God's Holy Comforter be felt by you all and hold you up in all the days ahead.

“ My sincerest sympathies to all of the Eudy family. I know you will miss Terry so much. Terry was my insurance agent for many, many years until his retirement. He was always cheerful, informative, and truly watched out for my family's needs. (Even when we put a batting cage and pitching machine in our back yard and nobody else wanted to cover us, he found a way.) And when I had two teenaged drivers, multiple accidents, etc., he was our advocate and kept us covered with good insurance. He'd give me this smirk of a smile, and say, "Now what?", but he always had our back. I enjoyed those visits at his office: he was a good and personable man with a great chuckle. When he changed offices, I pulled all my insurance and had him rewrite it at his new office. He was our guy until the day he retired. We were all blessed to have known him. Truly, my heart goes out to you.
