Faye wrote great poems about our dog Stretch and she loved to share ice cream with him. Faye went through a lot of testing for macular degeneration which she knew would not help her but may for future patients. She was a great lady and friend.

“ Faye could light up the room with her smiles. Her abundant love for her family and friends was wonderful to see and feel. Her poems are lovely and very personal. She loved a good conversation. She loved to tell us of days gone by, with stories of friends and family that she loved. She will always be in our hearts. She will be missed!
