“ I sat beside Mr. Wayne's spot in the balcony this morning. I looked over and smiled thinking he's now seeing what his faith believed all these yrs. I would get so tickled when he'd tell me stories bc he'd get so passionate about whatever we were talking about. The joy he got introducing me to various types of rocks. Every Sunday he'd say I come by to get my hug and flash that big ol smile of his. I truly will miss him but know he had plenty of family and friends waiting to greet him. Rest well bud!!!! We'll take good care of Ellen for you. Love you!

“ Wayne was a treasured member of the Happy Table group at Richard's Coffee Shop in Mooresville. The veterans there would often ask Wayne to retell the story of the snake he encountered in Vietnam (aptly described by Wayne in the book titled Stories of War and Conflict - available at Richard's). That snake got bigger and bigger with each telling of the story. The Happy Table just won't be the same without our dear friend Wayne.
